Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for a position with Oracle. I have used Java for my largest projects. I love it and all its derivatives - though I do still enjoy digging into an older messier language. I would love the opportunity to work with a set of extremely talented developers. I have spent the last 10 years learning how to deal with Legacy code and how to prevent code from becoming legacy code. I feel this would be a useful talent at a company such as yours.

Thank you for considering me for your role.

Sincerely,

–Douglas Ronne
